

RUISLIP CENTRAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

Despite a rain soaked start to the day the Ruislip Central Horticultural Society (RCHS) reported a successful spring show, with yet again an increase in entries from previous years. The show was held at the Great Barn in Bury Street, Ruislip, on Saturday March 28th and plenty of visitors and members turned out to see the bright and colourful entries.

Rose Langston, our President said “The society was very pleased that the dull winter months did not affect entries, and although the day started and ended with rain, the weather improved during time the show was open to public viewing and we had many visitors.”

John Ormshaw dominated the roll of honour, winning many prizes, including prizes for daffodils, general flora and pot grown plants.

The Geoff Ash cup for the best photographic exhibit was won by Joseph Piddington, while the Joyce Daniels cup for the domestic classes was won by Pat White.

The gold medal and trophy were won by Alice Weeks, with silver and bronze going to Lauren and Ellie Williams respectfully.

As mentioned above, the weather turned for the closing of the show and members had to pack their entries away during the downpour, but as usual, everybody had a great time.

The show must have been pretty well attended judging by the amount of refreshments sold. The catering, organised by Pat Smith and her team of willing helpers reportedly sold out of cake.

Why not see for yourself and come along to the Summer Show which will be held on 13th June.

Visitors are reminded that they are most welcome to attend the shows (entry is free) and any of the meetings that are held in the St. Lawrence Church Hall, Eastcote.
